The NV 3B Rosé Extra Bruto is mostly Baga (with a small bit of Bical) coming in at 11% alcohol. Fruity and fresh, with good persistence on the finish, this is a perfect aperitif style. It is lively but tasty, the good fruit nicely supported by acidity. It finishes with flavor. Drink it on the younger side, although it will hold a few years. Although a non-vintage wine, the tiny production stamp should say "L2015...", indicating it is from the 2015 harvest.
